There are sixteen approved private schools and five institutional barber schools in Ohio.

There were 5,490 inspections of barber shops; there were 122 new shops and 189 changes of ownership inspections. The inspectors visit each shop approximately 2-3 times each year and look for sanitation violations and unlicensed barbers and barbershops. The Inspectors issued 1,141 “warnings” on minor infractions to avoid violations being issued to them. The inspectors issued 489 violation notices. The inspectors assist and educate the barbers and barbershop owners in becoming compliant with the rules and regulations. The Board conducted 295 investigations/complaints of various natures were received in this office and were investigated by the Inspectors and their reports were forwarded to the Board office.

The Barber Board’s mission is to have a clean healthy environment for the consuming public in which to obtain barbering services.

Many barbers are self-sufficient shop owners, while many others depend on the Barber Board for hands on help for all matters. If the Board would not provide this hands on assistance many barbers would become unlicensed and begin cutting hair in unlicensed barbershops, thus causing a menace to public health and would not pay their fair share of federal, state and local taxes.

Within our global society, the Barber Board continues to assist all out of country barbers and introduce them to Ohio’s requirements for licensing. It is a high priority of this Board to assure that all out of country applicants receive fair and impartial treatment.

One goal of the Barber Board is to help maintain the number of barbers needed to meet public demand. The Board promotes the expansion of barber schools and works cooperatively with the Department of Corrections, public schools and the private schools to accomplish that goal.

The prison system barber schools are second to none. The graduates from the schools are trained and ready to enter the workforce and lead productive lives as professional barbers.

In regards to Executive order 2013-05K, the Barber Board has always and will continue to assist military veterans and their family members obtain licensure without delay.

In regards to Executive order 2012-06K, the Barber Board had made Human Trafficking Education apart of barber school training. The barber students must read human trafficking material and complete a written questionnaire prior to obtaining a barber license.

Ohio has always provided leadership on the national level. Howard Warner served as president in 2011, whom retired from the State of Ohio Board of Barber Examiners November 2014. Also, Connie Skaggs is currently serving as Past-President of the National Association of Barber Boards of America.

The Barber Board has the team in place to meet all new challenges and to assist the current administration in making Ohio the greatest place to operate a small business.

Thank you for allowing me the opportunity of serving on the Governor John Kasich's team.

Respectfully,

Ed Highley
Executive Director
